

- (b) A module `Generate()` will take an integer value representing an original number and return an integer value representing a new number which includes the check digit.

The original number is always at least three digits in length.

Write pseudocode for the module `Generate()`

Assume that the parameter is valid.

..... [7]

